

Mrs. Stuttard is looking for any old Scrabble games to use the tiles for a learning center in her room. If you have one to donate, please send it into school. Thank you very much!

Mrs. Stuttard's language arts class created this group poem patterned after Mary O'Neill's book of color poems, Hailstones and Halibut Bones.

What is Pink?

Pink is sticky, cotton candy from the circus,
Or a painful sunburn at the beach.

Pink is a sour grapefruit as a snack,
Or a fragrant rose in my garden.

Pink is a snorting, prickly pig,
Or a bubblegum bubble popped on my face!

Pink is sweet, raspberry lemonade on a hot summer day,
Or chilly strawberry ice-cream from the Meadows.

Pink is a tall, feathery flamingo standing on one foot,
Or a puppy's wiggling tongue giving me a kiss!

These are pink!
